

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF SOUTH CAROLINA

ORDER

The United States Sentencing Commission recently amended the sentencing guidelines for the retroactivity of Amendment 782 in Appendix C to the Guidelines Manual. Retroactivity of the amendment will become effective November 1, 2014, (with any order reducing the defendant's term of imprisonment having an effective date of November 1, 2015, or later), unless Congress acts to disapprove the amendment. To assist with the large number of defendants who could be affected by the change, it is ordered that the Federal Public Defender's Office for the District of South Carolina is appointed to represent defendants, with their consent, to review their files and to determine if the amendment applies to them.

Furthermore, if the United States Probation Office for the District of South Carolina identifies defendants who could be subject to the amendment, the Probation Office is authorized to disclose information, including the presentence investigation report, to the Federal Public Defender and to the United States Attorney.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
